

NJASFAA SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

Here are a few highlights regarding our 2010 Scholarship winners. NJASFAA congratulates them all!

Graduate and Professional

Alicia Polkowski, Monmouth University

Alicia's major is Master of Arts in Teaching. Her career goals are to begin teaching as a high school social studies teacher. At the same time she wants to obtain an additional Masters degree that would lead to a supervisory position. Her ultimate goal is to obtain a doctorate in education

4 Year Independent

Amanda Nisi, Monmouth University

Amanda's major is Social Work (BSW). Her career goals are child welfare, crisis intervention, criminal justice and social work. Amanda's immediate goal is to work in DYFUS for at least 2 years. Her ultimate goal is to work in a Prosecutor's office within the Child Sex Unit as a Social Worker.

4 Year Public

Erick Duverge, Rutgers University

Erick's major is Economics and Communication with a Minor in Psychology. His career goal is to work in Marketing, Advertising or Public Relations. Erick has interned with MTV in the MTV integrated Marketing area.

Community College and 2 Year Private

Anne Lowsky, Brookdale Community College

Anne's major is Early Childhood Education. Her career goal is to be an elementary school teacher. Her ultimate goal is to pass on to her students her own love of learning. Anne works in the Financial Aid Office, is a member of the Equestrian Club as well as volunteers in the group Mothers of Preschoolers.

Non-Traditional and Proprietary

Justin Eigenbrodt, Lincoln Technical Institute

Justin's major is Automotive. His ultimate goal is to be a Master Tech. To get a sense of Justin's real go we can listen to him, "to be able to support my family comfortably and to go to work with a smile on my face."